Rex Winder Williams

January 26, 1928 ~ January 14, 2018

Rex and Rosie were my mission parents in the Florida Tampa mission from 79-81. I was lucky to have stayed in touch with him through the years. In a mission conference, when I stood to introduce myself, Pres Williams told me to tell Elder Joseph B Wirthlin what happened to my eyebrows. A week before the conference, an old gas stove had exploded in my face. My only injuries were singed eyebrows and a few minor scratches. I should've been dead. Thanks for all the love and smiles over the years, P-Dub.

- Layne Mangum