

Bradley K. Worthen

April 17, 1950 ~ January 10, 2022

Brad was such a wonderful, loving, positive man. I have so many warm memories of him. He included me and my family like we were his own children. He comforted us during the most difficult of times. He always gave me a hug and told me how happy he was to see me. He was the shining example of love, acceptance, happiness, and kindness. He touched my heart in many ways and we are so sad for his passing. We love you Brad, and we rest a little easier knowing that you are at peace and happy with Lucy and you're family that has passed on before. We'll miss you and love you.

It was my privilege to have worked with Brad for 12 years in the office products industry and to have known him for many years after. He was truly one of the kindest gentleman that you would ever want to know. His upbeat, yet practical nature, of any situation, was refreshing. He had a great sense of humor. His ability to see things for what they really was was truly a gift that he shared. His love of music broadened my scope of artists and genre. I worked with Brad when CD's and CD players came about. After scratchy LP's, bleed through 8 track tape players, and hissing cassette tape noise, CD's were the BOMB. Brad had had somebody invite him over to listen to a CD. I remember, like it was yesterday, Brad saying "I heard Neil Young sing "Old Man" on a CD and I thought I had died and gone to heaven." Well, not long after we had both bought a CD player and was building our CD library. I worked along side Brad unloading and warehousing freight, furniture, and every kind of office product item you can think of. It was truly my honor to have met, worked along side, and to have known him.

Right after Highschool, I went to work for Coca-Cola Bottling Co. in 1970, Brad was one of the first people I met. He welcomed me and made me feel right at home, took me under his wing so to speak, and became good friends, Iv always looked up to him and admired him. He was a gentle peaceful soul. He had a love for music, and passed that on to me, a wide variety. I have so many good memories of Brad. I have tried to keep in some contact with him throughout the years. It saddens me to see him go, but he will still be with me in my heart. R.I.P. Bladley You are Loved

Wendy and Children. I was a childhood friend of Brads. We were neighbors and best friends growing up. I was the best man at your wedding. We moved apart after as I was in college. Brad was a dear friend and I am so sorry for yourself loss. He was a wonderful person and a lot of fun to be around. It saddens me that we moved apart as we aged. I’m not sure how well you remember me but I remember you. The two of you were a great couple. My heart goes out to you, your children, and the Worthen family. I would have come today but had complications with my schedule. All my deepest sympathy.
