

Carma Dean Fellows Toronto

September 29, 1932 ~ December 19, 2023

The obituary is an accurate, artfully- craftee work. Kudos to whomever created it. My love to all of her bodacious posterity. Cousin Michael with Maria

A mother, a grandmother, and a great-grandmother she was. A wife, a friend, and a helper indeed. But above all, she was a daughter. A daughter of God. And He has called her home.

I knew that Carma had to be around 90 if still living, but I was nonetheless saddened to hear of her recent passing. I can't think of Carma without thinking of my mother Judith Sandberg Larimer. Judy counted Carma as perhaps her best friend in the world. They would speak on the phone regularly during Judy's last years (she died Feb 29, 2000 of breast cancer). My brother Craig and I visited Carma some years ago at some sort of rest home or apartment near Hogle Zoo. It was delightful to see her beautiful smile again. Having loved the Torontos as children, I have tried to follow some of your exploits - especially proud of Steve and his service to the church in China. Sorry to hear of Russell's passing, and condolences to Jayne (fellow Switzerland Geneva missionary, n'est-ce pas?) for the loss of your husband. A beautiful family, the Torontos. Much love, Steve Larimer

A mother’s love is eternal. Let it be your guiding light.
