

Daryl Van Dam Hoole

March 5, 1934 ~ February 2, 2026

Sending my love and thoughts to your family. Your mother was such an instrumental influence in my life and I still share some of her wisdom with my own children. She was an amazing woman!

- Kimberly Anderson Hunter

What a great life. Our sincere condolences to the Hoole Family.

- John Bonnemort Family

Sister Hoole was one of the best people I've ever known and I'm sorry I didn't keep in touch like I'd hoped. She and her husband were my mission leaders and I still maintain that no better leaders could exist! I learned so much from her and love her dearly. I will enjoy a future reunion with them! Love to your wonderful family!

- Allyson (Hull) Bos

I am saddened to hear about the passing of my Aunt Darla. She truly was a wonderful woman. She loved her family. She was such a kind and caring soul. I had talked to her a few years ago. I remembered our family reunion we had at their house with uncle Hank and his brothers.Uncle Theo flew in from Amsterdam. My dad included. What a fantastic weekend we had. My condolences to my cousins and their family. I know you will miss this beautiful lady. She is with god and her beloved husband Uncle Hank. Rest In Peace With The Angels Aunt Darla. God Bless you. ❤■■❤■

- Johanna (Hoole) Higgins

To know Daryl is to love her and to feel of her love! I got to worm with Daryl and Hank when they were over YSA activities and it was pure joy to see their dynamic duo at work blessing so many. She taught me to follow the spirit and to truly magnify. Most of all she loved her family and would beam talking each one. Sending all my love to the Hoole Family, you come from a long line of eternal love!

- McCall Nelson

Your dear mother touched my life more than I can write in words! She is so special to so many! I'm so grateful we just recently visited her. What a loss, but what a reunion!! The power couple are reunited for eternity!! We love you, Sister Hoole!!! Sending our love!!! ❤■

I didn't spend a lot of time with my aunt. The few times I did, I saw and experienced her enthusiasm for life, her desire to serve others in a way that would change their lives. As a mother she seemed perfect. Gently guiding her children thru the complexities of life. Her constant hand in understanding God and his love for them. In return her children brought comfort and joy to her last days. Honoring her with all she taught them.

- Judith Barton

To The Family, Please Accept My Heartfelt Condolences. Truly the loss of a precious loved one is most difficult. Please find comfort in the promise our most loving Heavenly Father Jehovah God gives us in Revelation 21:4"And He will wipe out every tear from their eyes and death will be no more; neither will mourning; nor outcry; nor pain be anymore. The former things have passed away." Yes, We can look forward to a time soon to come when all suffering including death will be done away with forever.

I will be forever grateful for "Zuster" Hoole and her service as a mission leader in The Netherlands. Her commitment to her Savior and His church left a mark on me and my life for the good.

- Aaron Scroggin

What an amazing life and legacy! Zuster Hoole was very dear to me and influential in my life. I valued so much her words of encouragement both in person and in her thoughtful, handwritten notes. She also set such a great example of a faithful, Christlike life and always prioritized what truly matters. I will remember her fondly, as I do President Hoole. Their memory is a blessing. Much love to the Hoole family during this challenging time.

- Cari Nielson Ladd

We were so fortunate to have the friendship of Hank and Daryl for over 40 years. Their kindness and helpfulness were hallmarks in our lives. Daryl was always full of positive energy, never looking at life's challenges as being daunting, but always as problems to be solved. Her boundless energy and organizational skills were nothing short of remarkable. She will stand in our memory as a stalwart beacon. May her memory be eternal. Nick & Sabine Gold

One of the best and brightest ever. We will always love and remember Sr. Hoole. Thank you for the light, love, testimony, example, and goodness.

- John Brasher

What an exemplary woman with a beautiful legacy. I am filled with wonderful memories growing up with the Hoole family and was blessed to know each one of you.

- Shannon Taggart Tolman

We are deeply saddened by the loss of a truly wonderful neighbor and cherished friend whose kindness, integrity, and spirit of inclusiveness touched the lives of so many. When we moved into the neighborhood 24 years ago, Daryl (and Hank) welcomed us with a warmth and sincerity that made us feel seen, valued, and at home. We extend our most sincere and heartfelt condolences to the family during this profoundly difficult time.

Having read this obituary, totally sheds light on where you get your drive and work ethic Spence. You were always the first one to work in the morning at sunrise and most days the very last one to leave. Your writing skills are extraordinary and the way you write is uplifting, informative, humorous, insightful, supportive, and that comes from your mother, evidently! Our prayers are with you at this time of loss, but there is joy in knowing the plan of salvation, and knowing that you will see your mother again is heartwarming. A lot of people were blessed because of your mother‘s life in this world and that’s something to be very proud of.

In a visit in late '25 with Sr. Hoole, we joked that she had nothing left on her to do list, and how that was a new experience for her. We jokingly quipped "What a body to do when she's out of to-do's." We love her and will miss her dearly, and can only imagine how beautiful the reunions are for her now! What’s a Body to do When She’s Out of “To-Do’s?” What's a body to do when she's out of “to-do’s?” No more noses to wipe, no more laces for shoes; No more lessons to teach nor talks to prepare, No more missions to serve no truths to declare. It's hard for someone who's had so much to give, Untold lists to complete, seeming lifetimes to live. When the lists all run out, with no time to lose, What's a body to do when she's out of “to-dos?” The last chapter's been written, The last enemy smitten, The final witness been born, The last shoe sole is worn. No more littles to hug, Nor burdens to lug, To the end's all endured, Though illness uncured, The last example's been set, no more cooking or stews, What's a body to do when she's out of “to-do's?” Final smiles have warmed hearts far and near, And Love felt by all, each knowing how dear. Nothing’s left; it's all done, but to Be Still and Know: While generations of testimony in your wake grow. So, when a body's chosen all she came here to choose, She can rest with a smile, being all out of “to-dos.” Though we know rest will be short, still so much to be done, For the Noble and Great work on for the Son. In body or spirit, there’s no chance to snooze, The Joy goes on, never-ending “to-do’s!”

To the family of Daryl Hoole. I sincerely hope you receive this. If I had know of her death I would have attended the funeral, as I live in Orem. I am now 78 years old. But, in I my child-rearing years I wore out several of Daryl's books. They became dog-eared and splattered with spaghetti sauce. My solutions to many of life's problems began with the question: "What would Daryl do?" Today, I have been working on reorganizing my home files. Once again, the thought came, "What would Daryl do?" I vaguely recalled her having a plan that included a unique retrial system. I turned to google. I learned she had published her final book, "The Art of Aging Joyfully" at age 90!!! I ordered the book. I listened to her obituary. I marveled that she had been so nearby and wished I had met her. We might have become friends. I just thought you might like to know that she is still impacting the world. ~~Angie

How grateful I am to have felt prompted to visit sweet Sister Hoole recently and to introduce my wife and children to this remarkable woman. From the time I first met her years ago as my “mission mom” in the Netherlands until now, she has been a tremendous blessing in my life. She truly lived the Savior’s teaching to “let your light so shine.” Her light radiated from her deep love for Jesus Christ and for all of God’s children, and everyone who knew her could feel it. I am just one of many who were blessed to learn from her gift of wisdom, be lifted by her example of kindness and unwavering faith, and bask in the warmth of her marvelous light. Tot ziens, Zuster Hoole. Dank u wel.
