

Daniel Austin White

~

He was such an intelligent, kind soul. He provided my father with a tremendous friendship since before I was born. I will miss our annual conversations while camping in Indian Farm Canyon. He and my father started the "Lambroast" tradition in 1965. Friends gathered together each year in that canyon to share stories and enjoy nature. Through the years hundreds of people experienced the joy of the Lambroast which continued until my Dad died a few years ago. Thank you Dan for being such a great friend to all of us!

- Bonnie Douglass