

Coby Kay VanWagoner

June 1, 1974 ~ September 21, 2020

Oh, Coby, I was so sorry to hear of your loss. You were so strong for so long. That strength and positivity helped me weather some of my own health struggles. Thank you for your beautiful example. My heart goes out to your family and loved ones. Rest well.

To Coby's family. I just want you to know how much I adored Cody. I helped take care of her at Huntsman. It was a great privilege in my career as a nurse to be a part of her journey. I will miss her so much.

Coby was one of my best friends in junior high. I will never forget her. We ended up going to different high schools and lost touch. I did enjoy following her when social media came about. We actually had planned to meet up back in March then Covid happened and we never was able to meet. Rest in peace Coby. From what I could tell through social media you fought one hard fight and your an inspiration to many. Hugs to her family.

I worked with Coby just a few years. Her bright smile and happy spirit brightened my day. Even after her diagnosis her inspiring posts lifted my heart. May your family find comfort knowing Coby will always be watching over you ❤■
