

Richard Charles Blair

November 2, 1933 ~ April 30, 2020

Please accept my sincere condolences. Remembering uncle Dick’s gentle soul and his wonderful sense of humor will forever remain in my heart. May he Rest in Peace!

- Robert Zgraggen

I am so sorry for the passing of your dad and grandfather. Wishing you peace and comfort at this time of loss!

- JoAnn Good

Dear Richard, Brenda, Kenny, David and families, me, Jessica and Justin want to send our heartfelt condolences and will be thinking of you all today. We were so sad to hear of uncle Dick’s passing. I am so grateful I saw him last summer when he invited me, mom, dad and Kori (David was there too) to a delicious buffet. He was in great spirits and was going from table to table socializing and singing with the other tables. He also gave us a tour and was ever so sweet. We will all miss him dearly. We send you our love.

Forty-six years ago (1973), the doorbell rang at Dick Blair's house. He answered the door, and in front of him stood a skinny, long-haired kid in ratty jeans and barefoot, there to pick his daughter, Brenda, up for a date. I was that kid. He asked me where my shoes were (I still hate shoes) and I said "in the car". He said "oh, all right, come in". He never flinched, where a lot of Dad's wouldn't have allowed it. When I asked him for Brenda's hand in marriage and he knew I would be taking her away because I had joined the Navy, once again he never flinched -he could have, because we were oh so young. Although Brenda and I didn't work out, two wonderful things came out of it for me-an amazing son, Nick, and the privilege of knowing Dick Blair. We loved telling each other the corniest, most stupid jokes and laughing hysterically. He never stopped loving me, and I never stopped loving him. My condolences to all the family…he was one of the best…

Even though we miss our loved ones, now they are in the house of our father dancing and singing praise. Our pain to see them will turn into joy one day when we to will arrive in the fathers house
