

Kate Lauvon Kirkham Christmas

December 13, 1944 ~ December 4, 2024

Kate was a treasured and wise colleague for me at BYU. I'll miss her, but glad she is able to move on with her eternal exaltation.

I'm so sorry to hear about the passing of one of the greats, Kate Kirkham. As a new faculty member at BYU, Kate gave me tremendous support and encouragement, as well as leadership opportunities as the coordinator of one of our undergraduate programs. She was always attentive to the needs of others and constantly looked for ways to support her colleagues and especially our students. She taught people about the power of belonging and lived those same principles in her life. She will be missed!

A truly wonderful professor and human being, one of the very best who influenced me during my time at BYU. Rest in peace, Dr. Kirkham.
