

Hyrum Willard Barlow

March 8, 1934 ~ July 30, 2021

I have had the privilege of growing up with the Barlow Family on Salt Lake's west side. They were one of the most productive and exemplary families in our neighborhood. Hyrum, as an integral part of that family brought much credence to his belief system. His large extended family carries on the great tradition of the unique Barlow heritage. His example to members of the community around him is definitely one to be emulated. I met him on two or three occasions in past years, and I always came away with the distinct impression that I had spoken with a man of true education. May his memory be eternal.
