I love you, grandpa.

Bert, thanks for being a thoughtful and kind man to me and my children. I will never forget the kindness you showed to my son at a difficult time in his life, when you were his Sunday school teacher! It was many years later I found out the anonymous letter with Christmas cash for my children was from you. Thanks for the memories. I know how difficult it was for you to leave the love of your life, Janet. You loved her so much! You will be missed!! Now rest a little, then go find my son Eric, and get to work. He loves to golf too.

Janet, I'm so very sorry to hear of Bert's passing. Although I never knew him, I know he must have been an amazing man. We are truly blessed to know that we can be sealed for time and all eternity to such wonderful companions. May the Lord bless you with His peace and comfort my friend.

Brother Sainsbury was called to be our Sunday School teacher a few times when I was a teenager. We had a rough group, but he was one who could handle us well. He was a great teacher, and a great friend. I had the privilege of being his home teaching companion for a few years, and he was, without a doubt, one of the finest ones I ever had. He planted many a treasured lesson and memory inside, and I often remember them. I know that you have navigated your way through life well my friend. God be with you 'till we meet again.
