I have many fond memories of your Dad, he was a Class Act in every way. He loved his family and was a man all our sons should aspire to be. Michelle Fabela Osterberg

Dear Jessie, Audrey, Andy and Daniel We pray that our Heavenly Father will comfort your hearts, and fill your hearts with His Love more than ever before.. We have lost a very dear friend for more than 50 years, even during Paul's last months of his life, he still managed to call us in hospital room from Utah, his voice was weak yet the same Paul full of warmth. We used to see each other often at MBCLA and served in Sunday School together. He is one of the most faithful and good Christian that we know, he does everything whole heartedly, easy to get along with people, have never seen him being upset about anything, or towards any one. Truly a good natured honest man. Most of us know that he is an outstanding commercial designer and artist, we admire his work very much. trying to think of some fun things to remember about Paul, Paul actually does not say funny things or tell jokes that we remember. But his seriousness sometimes can be humorous and causes us to smile. Last but not least, Paul and Jessie have raised three beautiful and successful children he can be proud of. We will miss Paul but we won't forget our dear brother. Andrew and Rachel Chu

Dear Jessie, Audrey, Andy, and Daniel, I am so sad to hear we lost Uncle Paul. Believe it or not, I think about him pretty often and am reminded of my experiences with all the Young family over the years because of a car. Parked within eye-shot our our back yard is an auto dealership and one of the employees regularly parks his tan Volvo outside. That the first car I remember Uncle Jesse drove. Uncle Paul was one of the original family friends who I was introduced to since I can even remember and although I have not had regular communication with the Young family, I will always have a warm place in my heart for all of you. Especially to Andy and Dan, who I have shared very fond memories together. I am saddened you are experiencing the loss of your Dad right now. Please reach out to me anytime. I miss you guys. With much love, Victor
