Lois Kay Hinckley Cannon

February 29, 1952 ~ October 6, 2018

I first met Kay Hinkley in Point Grey High School in Vancouver, BC Canada when we were seniors there in about 1968/69. She was the engine of laughter, friendship and joy to all of us who knew her. I was searching for quotes on virtue (I weave them into my teaching) when I came across her father, Gordon B. Hinkley, and quickly found my dear high school friend, Kay. I am saddened to hear of her passing; I would have loved to reminisce as old friends do, especially about her virtuousness, comraderie, and compassion. She was a true gift to all of us in our youthful days of growing up. I will be using her father's wise quotes to my students right away with a special feeling in my heart. My sincere condolences to her family.
