Dear Trish, You were a friend and a soul sister to me. How did you pass so quickly before I could even say goodbye? You embraced the world and fell in love with life. You shared your passion for adventure in your words and in your art. You climbed the tallest of mountains and swam in the deepest of waters. You gathered many treasures along your journey. You were here one day and took flight the next. But you never skipped a beat. Now you fly amongst the angels and you are their treasure.

Trish was a phenomenal art teacher! Her students did incredible work, in large part because of Trish. She was so kind and friendly. I am so sorry for your loss
