we are so very sorry for your loss. Brent was a special man, friend and bishop. Our thoughts are with you and your family. We really loved our association with you and your children, and have missed you all.

Brent is one of the great people I have known. I worked with Brent at LDS Business College for many years. I found him ever kind, gracious, patient, and very competent. He had a down-to-earth intelligence and great insight. Brent loved people and treated them with kindness and insight. He taught me many things. Brent is the kind of man I would like to become. His faith in God, love of others, and patience in afflictions honed his character. His death must leave a great void. Know that I, and many others, love Brent and pray that you will have peace.
