

Robert Earl Faulkner

July 2, 1965 ~ July 31, 2021

Sorry for your Loss RIP

- Bonnie Marquez

So sorry for your loss he was a kind and giving man

- troy miller

I will always hold a special place in my heart for Rubin. He was my rock when I needed him. He was like big brother to me. I have since remarried and left the state! I just found out recently that he passed away! Shocked really he was to young and never would thought he be gone! I am sorry that I grew apart and left my past behind. I am in touch with few people this how I found out! Sorry for your loss! I know that I am lost for words but he has never left my heart! I wished that I could have kept closer to him. He was at one point my big brother! He did make you laugh and smile all the time! Love you and miss you even more knowing that I will never see him again. Tina

- Tina Runk

Robert was always pretty quiet and shy, so I never really got to know him till I was older, but he would tell us stories sometimes about working at the cemetery. He would joke a lot about death, but he said no one ever jokes about the babies. “The babies always broke your heart.” He said with a very sad, knowing look in his eyes. He had a kind heart and would let the nieces and nephews play in his space and never shooed them away. He would try to make things fun for them and keep them out of trouble. He was a kind uncle, and I will miss him.

- Elena