Dearest Family of Uncle John, I am truly heartbroken that I won't be able to be there for his services and to offer my condolence in person. These sorts of things are important to me, so I will hope to tell you here how much he will be missed. It always seemed to me that he lived his life to the fullest; he never did anything halfway. He lived with intensity and purpose, and accomplished so much because of his strong work ethic and "can do" attitude. I will also remember his keen wit, that twinkle in his eye, and his desire to help others be their best. He worked hard and played hard too. ■ There is much to be learned from his example of a life well lived. May he rest in peace. Until we meet again- Love you Uncle John! Love, Elizabeth Mari Jefferies Porter and family p.s. I will come by to visit his final resting place the next time I am in Utah.

Our thoughts and prayers will be with you during this time of loss Ruby, Jim, Julie, and Brad and all your families. It's so hard to see someone you love leave this earth life. Yet, with the gospel of Jesus Christ we have great hope of being together as families through out the eternities. John has been an influence for good in many individuals during his life time. His love for people and helping them reach success is a quality to be admired. I heard this quote a few years ago that has given me comfort with a loss in my family. It goes like this, In a beautiful blue lagoon on a clear day, a fine sailing ship spreads its brilliant white canvas in a fresh morning breeze and sails out to the open sea. We watch her glide away magnificently through the deep blue and gradually see her grow smaller and smaller as she nears the horizon. Finally, where the sea and the sky meet she slips silently from sight; and one is heard to say, "There, she is gone." Gone where? Gone from sight..that is all. She is still as large in the mast and hull and sail; still able to bear her load. And we can be sure just as we say, "there she is gone." Another says, "There, she comes." So as we say good-by to our husband, dear friend, father, grandfather, another is saying "Welcome home." We love you, we love our memories of John and his family. May that love bring comfort and peace. Much love, Gene and Janel Nelson Gene and Janel Nelson

To the family of John, I am so sorry for your lost. I haven't know John and his beautiful wife Ruby very long but they have been so kind to me. I moved next door to John and he always brought my garbage can in and always let me know when package I had a delivered. They invited me to sit with them at special events and I will truly miss the kind gentle heart of John. Please rest in peace, you will be missed. Georgia
