That was an absolutely lovely funeral for a lovely lady. Your mother is loved by all and she deserved such a sweet tribute. I am praying you will be comforted and blessed and that you all know of the love we all have for all your families.I cherish the fact that I was named after my aunt Sally. I hope I can live up to her name and honor her. Love to all,Sally

It was a lovely service. I was so glad I was able to watch. What a fine family.

I'm sorry I missed your mom's funeral, I only just saw her obituary last night. Your mom was so sweet with such a tender spirit. I was so impressed when your mom and dad left for their mission to California, where Jessica tagged along, in her own right to be a missionary. Bravo!! While serving in the primary, I loved seeing your mom every Tuesday when she picked up Jessica. Always a bright smile, and loving way. I loved Jessica with her quiet smile, (and her big appetite... your mom would say, "we have to lock all the cabinets so she won't keep eating"... it made me laugh, but I understood... I have missed seeing all the original's from Primary. My own son Stewart, is now 41, and still attending Special Primary. How lucky we are to have our family, I send you my love, knowing that she is now in the arms of her beloved husband. To sweet Jessica, I send a hug from an old friend...

Sally was a dear Jr High and High Scholl friend of mine - we belonged to the club who met for many many years after High School. We even connected at the ball fields while our husbands coached our boys. I have thought of her often and unfortunately just learned (2/4/26) of her passing - my sincere condolences to your family.
