

Tamara "Tammy" Decker

March 12, 1959 ~ December 2, 2024

Tamara we always had such great times together. You always made me feel special and loved. You will be greatly missed. Rest in Paradise and give Carson a big hug for me. Sending good vibrations to all the family and loved one during this difficult time.

- Taryn Hunt

Tamara, when I first met you in 1999, I instantly recognized your kind and gentle spirit. You opened your home to me and the rest of us and embraced us with warmth and understanding. You were a truly extraordinary, free-spirited soul who brightened the lives of everyone she encountered. I'll always cherish the memories of Stevie Nicks and Heart playing in the background, a soundtrack to our countless conversations. You had an incredible ability to connect with troubled youth, offering guidance and support. You were more than just a friend; you were a second mother, and I'm eternally grateful for your love and care. Your pride in Miranda, Carson, and Colton was evident in every word you spoke, and your love for them was unwavering. Though you've left us too soon, this isn't goodbye but rather "see you later." I know you and Carson are together now, reunited with the heart you lost. Save me a seat and a glass of Cabernet. I'll join you down the road. Until then, ride off into the sunset with your infectious smile. I'll see you again, sooner than later. With love and tears, Love always: Mark C.

- Mark Collins

Godspeed, Tammy. As you journey beyond this world, may the winds of heaven carry you gently home. Godspeed, dear friend, on this sacred path where pain fades and peace abounds. Your laughter, your love, and the vibrant song of your life remain etched in the hearts you touched. Though we grieve your absence, we rejoice in knowing you are free, walking in light, embraced by those who went before you. May your soul soar with the grace you lived by, finding eternal rest in the arms of divine love. Until we meet again, Tammy, Godspeed.

- Nan Shaw