My sincerest condolences for Brandon and the entire Patrick family for the loss of their precious son and brother Trey. Words escape me as to the enormity of losing a son, someone so full of life. Parents are not supposed to say good bye to their children. Siblings are supposed to grow up with each other. Our Lord in heaven has unique plans for each of us. Trey's next mission is to be with him in heaven watching over the rest of the family. He has a much higher calling now. My love and prayers to the family.

Brandon and Becky, I send my love and deepest condolences at this time of sorrow. I was able to tune in to the funeral, and feel your pain, but also the deep and abiding faith which has blessed and strengthened you. Some of us are given greater opportunities to appreciate Heavenly Father's blessings and prepare us for even greater blessings that He has in store for us. Death brings separation and pain, but it also brings the greatest joy with a life well lived. Some are so valiant they are spared mortalities challenges. Trey was certainly one of those. Love to you, your children and extended family.

Loved the day Grandma Sheila had Trey visit our Ward in Midway. Prophet, President Nelson was visiting too the same day. He reached out and touched Trey. How could he resist that happy countenance! EnJOYed getting to know TREY'S wonderful family at funeral. "Hey Trey" you were a powerful loving Warrior to many and blessed countless lives!
