

Alan Briant Gale

May 28, 1962 ~ January 26, 2024

We will definitely miss Alan and his fun stories and his great attitude towards life. A great guy.

- Brad Erickson

My condolences for the loss of Alan. May all that knew Alan find peace and comfort in Jesus Christ.■

- Ralph Rosenhan

We are so sorry for your loss, we know you will all miss him so very much. May you be filled with God’s love, peace and comfort.

- Glenda & Dave Braun

I grew up with the Gales. They were fun friends to hang with and cause trouble with. They lived down the street from us then they moved into our house. When I joined the Air Force I literally bumped into Alan at basic training. Then we met up after basic at Keesler AFB where we hung out for a few months. When we both got to Hill AFB he was there to give me rides back to Kearns. Those were fond memories that reminded me of his kindness, his laughter and his companionship. He will be missed. Our hearts go out to Rina, a dear childhood friend.

- James suc

He was such a gentle giving soul and will be greatly missed. Much love to all of his family and friends.

- Kim Lane

Many times, while I was in front of my garage, he would wave and often stop and visit with me for a while. He made me feel like family. Once, he invited me to watch a conference with him. That is a great memory. It meant a lot to me that someone thought of me and followed up by doing something. I will miss him. and his smile.

- Richard Butler

Alan you will be missed here in the physical, but you are with us spiritually in the way God's love makes us family united. I loved how we could stay up late or talk a few hours philosophizing on life and Jesus. To all his family, friends and loved ones, Peace, be still and know that I Am. Jesus Christ lives and is the Savior. Because of that we live and cannot die.

- Bruce and Carmela

It's hard to know what to say, to be completely honest. I can't believe he's gone, but I always thought it would involve a fast car or a childish grin with the last words "I can make that". I didn't know Alan for very long, but he was one of the most freely giving people I'd ever met. I remember many times a situation would normally call for anger, frustration, or harsh words but his response was consistently long-suffering and love unfeigned. He was consistently there for me during trying times, and was always willing to provide support, love, and sage advice. He was and is greatly loved by his family, and I know they feel a deep void at his passing, as do I. Even so, I can't help but picture him happily waiting and watching over us in heaven; sending love to his family, continuing his legacy of charity and watchful care. I suppose all that are left in the wake of a passing say this, but he departed too soon. Alan, you will be missed, but try not to have to much fun up there without us!

- Austin Schembri

We are so very sorry for your loss! He will be missed greatly!

- Susie Anderson

Rina & Gale Family Alan was a character back in high School, was where we had a lot of fun. Cruising state street in his 67 Camaro and then later on working at Viking and FedEx together, sadly has life happens once Alan went to north salt lake we lost contact with each other. Alan you left this life too soon, but I am sure that you must have been needed more on the other side. I hope his family and friends find comfort in the great plan of happiness of our Savior Jesus Christ. You will get to see him again one day. May the Lord s blessings be upon you and comfort you in your times of grief.. Craig & Angie Hansen

- Craig Hansen

Sorry, for your loss it’s rally hard to believe so young. Alan was always there with a smile and good humor, when he was upset he was pissed but quickly was willing to forget and move on. I know he was a good example to everyone and to my knowledge never had a cross word or backbiting except maybe with me. ha. I enjoyed talking with him and felt his genuine kindness. I’m grateful for his friendship and kindred spirit. I know without a doubt that he will watch after his loved ones and they will feel his presence. Know that grieving is powerful and you will come to realize the blessings and understanding of this mortal life is a fleeting moment. We grow going through the good and the bad it’s how we understand and progress. ■bows and you will see ■ shine and Allen will be over you each step you take. God Bless.

- Roy Moore

Sorry, for your loss it’s rally hard to believe so young. Alan was always there with a smile and good humor, when he was upset he was pissed but quickly was willing to forget and move on. I know he was a good example to everyone and to my knowledge never had a cross word or backbiting except maybe with me. ha. I enjoyed talking with him and felt his genuine kindness. I’m grateful for his friendship and kindred spirit. I know without a doubt that he will watch after his loved ones and they will feel his presence. Know that grieving is powerful and you will come to realize the blessings and understanding of this mortal life is a fleeting moment. We grow going through the good and the bad it’s how we understand and progress. ■bows and you will see ■ shine and Allen will be over you each step you take. God Bless.

- Roy Moore

Thinking of you and praying for you and your family Rina as you are going through the loss of your husband Alan. May the love of family, friends and loved ones support you at this time. I hope your faith and good memories of Alan may lift you and support you. Love and hugs, Desiree Robinson

- Desiree Robinson

Alan, why did you leave us so early? You are supposed to be here for at least another 40 years. I am missing you already and I am sure you have closer family members who also miss you. Please tell Aunt Linda, your Mom Hi, and let her know that I thought you were a very Special Cousin. Whenever We saw each other, usually at funerals, you were always smiling and in a good mood. I didn't know anything about your work or family, but it sounds like you did the right things to live a good life. God Bless You and your family.

- Kathleen Higgins