

Anke Johanna Hinmon

March 2, 1941 ~ August 26, 2025

She was always interested in others and willing to share her perspective, which was often entertaining and engaging. My last visit with her, a few months ago, was a delight. I wish we could've had many more. I will miss her.

- Talon Greeff

Anke was more than a stepmother to me. She was a friend. She would make me clam chowder when I visited. Her home was always open for me. She loved my children. She took good care of my dad. I miss you, Anke. please say hi to my dad and my friends, Sam, Cosby, and Buddy.

- Tom Hinmon

Anke filled our lives with abundance … always an open door to their home, a full table of amazing food prepared with love … and so much fun to be had. She got down on the floor and played with her grandchildren, celebrating each one of them. I hold gratitude in my heart for the unique, dedicated and loving woman Anke was, for the Grandmother she was to my children, and for the happy and cherished memories she created with us.

- Lesly Chamberlain

So sorry for your loss.

- Donna Vetsch

Anke married my dad when I was 23 years old, and I was so happy that he found love again after being divorced for over a decade. Anke was a fun loving friend, and I enjoyed being in their home and looking at all the pictures, momentos, works of art, the thousands of VHS tapes, visiting with Jake, and so many good experiences for nearly 50 years. Her care center was a soft place for her to land after she sold their home, and I spent many happy hours enjoying her stories and being quizzed about our family members. Anke and dad are together again, something she longed for the past 25 years.

- Anne Hinmon Ebert