

Asher Lawrance Hardman

December 28, 2003 ~ March 25, 2026

Even with 2 days to think about it no words seem adequate. I'm so sorry for your loss. My heart breaks for you all. He was such a light in the world. I remember fondly him as a kid and how brilliant and funny he was. My favorite was when he insisted on spelling his name Ash5er but let us know not to worry the 5 was silent. He will be missed. All my love I'm so sorry.

- Summer

I taught Asher in Sunbeams!! This breaks my heart!! I send prayers of comfort and peace to his family!!

- Shawn Hurt

What a light Asher is in our world. Every game of Unstable Unicorns, every brunch on the weekend, every time we omit broccoli from a recipe, every daffodil we see, every anime we discuss, we will smile and think fondly of Asher. He is a good human in this world and we are so lucky to have known him. It simply isn't enough time. It's what we will always wish we had more of. We share in the sorrow, the loss, the grief, and send our deepest strength and love to those who knew him. To his family, we love you, we see you, and we are so sorry for your loss. We miss him and love him still.

- The Ricord Family

I didn't know him personally, but I know how much light he had shown to people, how much he meant to everyone around him. He will always be loved and remembered.

Asher was such a kind soul. He always said "Good Morning" in the hall, even though I never had him in a class. Please know that he was loved and appreciated here in ECE, too. We are devastated at his loss. May his memory be a blessing, and may every new sunrise bring a "Good Morning".

- Cindy Furse

I was deeply saddened to hear of his passing. Even though it has been several years since he was in my class at the U, he has remained someone I have remembered. He stood out—not only for always being present and engaged, often sitting near the front—but for the genuine warmth he brought with him. His smile was consistent and sincere, and it made a lasting impression. I also remember seeing him at department events, often with the same close group of friends, and it was clear he valued those connections and brought a sense of ease and belonging to those around him. As faculty, we meet many students, but only a few stay with us in this way. He was one of those students for me, and he will be remembered. My heartfelt condolences to his family, friends, and all who knew and loved him.
