

Benjamin David Salisbury

July 19, 2010 ~ January 30, 2025

Ben was one of my second cousins, but he felt like a brother to me for a long time he always knew how to get into trouble with the best ideas that have the worst outcomes. Ben will definitely be missed by me and many others. Ben I hope you have found peace wherever you may be now.

- Ian A'hearn

Tina, I'm so heartbroken for your loss. No doubt he was an amazing young man. You all will be in my prayers.

- Erica Orgeron.

Dear family of Benjamin, you do not know me and I do not officially know you… But my nephew, Tait Stewart, was friends with Benjamin and I know how much he loved him and how sad he is at the loss of his friend. I felt so touched reading Benjamin's obituary. What a wonderful young man and what a blessing to so many! I do wish I had the opportunity to know him, I am sure I would have loved him as well! You are in my thoughts, and I pray that somehow you will be able to have some peace. Benjamin is continuing to bless lives even after he has left this earth! My deepest sympathies, love, Tessa Bailey

I'm grateful that you have the gospel in your life to help ease the pain that comes with loosing a loved one. May God bless you with peace and comfort in this hour of need. I'm sorry for you lose.

- Kent Southworth

Although I did not know Ben, I do know his sister Ashleigh, and knowing how incredible she is, I can only imagine his greatness. I am so very sorry for the loss of your family and send my prayers and thoughts your way. There are no words to say that can make this moment easier, but hopefully knowing that there are so many who are here to love and support you through this time, is a comfort.

- Cassie Larsen

I didn't know Ben, but I do know Ashleigh. She was a delight to work with, and always spoke of her family and siblings with such regularity. She always told of the fun and antics she would have with her siblings! My condolences for your loss. May your faith and knowledge of eternal families be a great comfort to your time of great sorrow.

- Erika Coleman

We are so heartbroken for your loss. We will keep you in our prayers.

- Duane and Lori Smith

To all who knew and loved Ben. My heart is heavy as I contemplate the events of this last week. Such tragic loss for all. He will be missed but we shall all see Ben again. May his memory be swallowed up in the love of our Heavenly Father and our elder brother our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. He lives and because of his love for each of us we shall all live again after our mortal journey comes to an end. Ben has finished his work and has returned home. We all await the same fate. May our return be as joyful as Ben’s. Remember always, this is temporary. God bless all of you. Remember to smile, you are awesome.

Hey this is jesse I am kennedys school friend I want to say that I'm am so sorry for Ben's death and even tho I only met him 2 times I still felt the most sad when it came to death as I ever have been.

- Jesse west

Im not sure if anyone will receive this as its been a year since Ben has gone but, Ben was my classmate in elementary from kindergarten all the way to 6th grade. He was the funniest kid in the class not to mention the smartest, and he never failed to make everyone feel included. I remember one time I saw him at golden corral and I was so excited and brought him cotton candy, and we’d call him salisbury steak on days that the school cafeteria served that. In 6th grade when I didnt really have many friends, him and the rest of his friends always be welcoming to me. I miss him dearly and I still think about him and always will.
