Our thoughts, love, and prayers go out to your family. The heartache of your loss will dim with time, but your memories and shared joy are Eternal. Safely through the veil, your sister, mother, grandmother, great grandmother, is in loving arms and feeling sweet peace. She is now patiently watching over, and waiting on, all of you, her dear loved one's. (She's probably planning a special trip to share the wonderful paradise she's now exploring.)

Bev and I had great times together whether traveling or just getting together for breakfast. I had the opportunity to help her decorate her home which she kept immaculately. Bev and Jack were just fun to be with. We laughed all the time. Bev was always elegantly dressed no matter where she went. I will miss her greatly. I will cherish the memories and think of her often. She will not be forgotten.
