

Brent Coleman Richards

December 20, 1937 ~ August 26, 2023

My brother Brent in the 1950's was a cool dude who wore blue suede shoes and had thick dark brown hair with a DA cut. He enjoyed studying math, space and questioning theories concerning the universe. He also loved to prove that he was almost always right about any given subject. He was blessed with a wonderful large family and he would do anything for them. Way to go my brother Brent. You lived a busy productive life and you should be proud! Love, your brother Glenn

- Glenn Orin Richards Jr

Thank you Brent for your many posts on UBron, I have enjoyed them all from subject to subject. I wish you a pleasant journey inward and upward, and when time comes i hope to meet you. I send you my warmest positive vibrations of Light, Life and Love and wish you safe arrival.

- Jean Ascher

I am named after Brent. Brent and my father were friends back in the early 1960's. My father and uncle had a trio band and Brent frequented the nightclub in down town Waterbury Connecticut where they preformed and this is how they met. He also dated my aunt for a while. I only met him twice when I was a little boy and of course I always remembered because I knew I was named after him and he was a nice guy. I also knew he moved out to Utah. My father just loved his name. About 6 years ago or so I got a message through Facebook from him asking me if I knew who he was. I told him of course, because I was named after him. We had several discussions and he told me a lot about where he grew up in the lower North End of Waterbury, reminded me that he dated my aunt, and many other stories about my father and him hanging out. I just talked with Brent shortly before my trip up to the US, about 6 weeks ago, as I live in Brazil now. We had a long phone call and it was great as always to talk to him. He was in good spirits as always. He was a very accomplished and successful man. My prayers and best wishes go out to his wife and large family. He will surely be missed by many including me.

- Brent Hanson Magnano