

Owen Mitchell Crane

February 17, 2022 ~ February 17, 2022

Early in the morning on Thursday, February 17th, we welcomed Owen into the world via emergency c-section. Both mom and baby came down with an infection called chorioamnionitis, which required a quick delivery. Owen needed extra care after delivery, so he was life-flighted to Primary Children's hospital. His complications with breathing and the infection proved too much to overcome, and he passed away shortly after arriving at the hospital. Although his time on this Earth was short, he struggled mightily to be here with us. The medical staff called him "a little fighter".

Owen was born with beautiful auburn hair, a perfect blend of his mom and dad. He had the cutest button nose. His darling blond eyebrows and eyelashes remind us of his dad. He was measuring ahead of schedule at each prenatal appointment and was born a whopping 8 pounds, 14 ounces. He was 21 inches long.

Although Owen was with us for only a few short hours before returning to his Heavenly Father, his parents felt they got to know him well during their 9-month pregnancy. He loved when Mom and Dad would read books to him. Whenever his dad got home from work and hugged his mom, he would kick Dad. His parents frequently found themselves smiling, as his cute personality showed brightly, well before they got to see him in person. He was a night owl, like his dad, always kicking and moving around late into the night, when mom preferred to be sleeping.

A private graveside service for family will be held for Owen at the Salt Lake City Cemetery at 11:00am on Saturday, February 26, 2022. The services will be streamed via Zoom through Larkin Mortuary for the many friends and family who would like to attend virtually. The recorded services will be posted following the conclusion of the services.

The family would like to thank the hospital staff at Intermountain American Fork Hospital and Primary Children's Hospital for all of their kindness and efforts made on Owen's and Kristie's behalf.
