In Loving Memory of Rashmi Khanna Jarvis

April 1, 1949 – May 1, 2025

Born in Lahore, Pakistan, in 1949, Rashmi (Rashi to those close to her) lived a vibrant, fiercely independent life filled with integrity, creativity, and meaning. After suffering a stroke, she passed peacefully at the age of 76 under the loving watch of her daughter.

Her early life took her across continents—from Pakistan to Germany—before she eventually made Salt Lake City her home. Her adventurous spirit first led her to the skies as a flight attendant for Pakistan International Airlines, where she explored the world with elegance and curiosity. Later, she pursued a new path, studying cosmetology and embracing her entrepreneurial side by opening Ray of Dawn, a small boutique in downtown Salt Lake City. She went on to work various jobs before retiring in 2013. Married to Kent Jarvis for four years, they remained close friends and a united force in raising their daughter, Yasmine.

Known for her rebellious nature and feisty spirit, she lived with unwavering integrity and compassion. Her love for all living things was evident in her home, which was filled with thriving plants, and in her generous heart, frequently gave quietly to charitable causes.

She was deeply spiritual in her own unique way, believing that there was good to be found in this world. Her strength was matched by her creativity: she painted, made jewelry, sketched, and even explored the art of lapidary. She was forever creating and easily found beauty in the process.

To those who knew her, she was more than a mother, friend, or neighbor; she was a source of wisdom, comfort, and perspective. Her door was always open, whether for heartfelt advice, a little gossip, or a much-needed reality check. She gave freely of herself, her time, and her truths.

She is survived by her beloved daughter, Yasmine, whom she cherished and doted on throughout the latter half of her life. Her legacy lives on in every life she touched and in the bold, generous, and loving spirit she so freely shared.

A memorial service will be held at Le Jardin in Sandy, Utah, on Tuesday, May 27 at 11:00 a.m.

She will be missed deeply, remembered always, and celebrated eternally.
