To all the Freckletom family. We are saddened by Chad s passing. We have known a d loved him and of you for many years. Marci was such a great companion and you were such a great family through Chad s ups and down you kept a positive attitude always happy. We send you all our love and hugs. Love. Paul and Karen Steck

- Karen Steck

A faithful and Impressive young man, as beautifully expressed in his obituary. Our thoughts and prayers are with you Marci, Carol, Ron, and families. Our Savior Jesus Christ and others under His direction, some of which are and will be unseen, will help you through your loss. We love you! ❤

I worked with Chad in 2013-2014. I remember one day we were working on a project for the Huntsman chemo center trying to improve wait times for chemo patients. We were trying to track how long each patient was waiting for their chemo to start from the time they arrived. There was a lot of waiting around. Chad took that time to tell me the story of his liver transplants. I was so impressed by his optimism, faith, and perspective about his experience. I have thought about his story many times since then. I have always had so much respect for Chad. I could tell of his love for the Savior by his actions and the way he treated other. His steady and joyful demeanor made him very easy to work with. I quit working in 2014 when I had my oldest son, but Chad came to visit us before we took our baby home from the (U of U) hospital. My deepest condolences to Marcie, and the kids. He spoke always lovingly of his wife and kids. I'm sure he is watching over you now. I know I have felt my dad's influence since he passed away 2 years ago. What a blessing it is to know that someday we can be reunited with our loved ones after this life.

I am so sorry about your loss and wishing you strength in this difficult time. We will miss Chad at Huntsman Cancer Institute.

- Neli Ulrich

I was fortunate to work with Chad for years at the University of Utah hospital and at HCH. Chad was always positive, thorough, and trustworthy in his work. He was also quick to laugh. I'll miss seeing him around the campus. My deepest condolences to his wife, children and family.

I had the privilege of working with Chad at Huntsman Cancer Hospital and it was a great collaboration. He always had a smile and kind words and was willing to take time to help me understand our quality reports. He was a wonderful person and coworker. My heart goes out to his family and to everyone he served at the hospital.

- Joy Lombardi

My heart is with you all during this tender time. I remember Chad as a sweet nephew and child who grew up to become a good and exemplary man. He left an indelible mark, and there is no doubt he "returned with honor." Until you are again reunited, may you be comforted and sustained with God's love.

We love the Freckleton family! Chad was Jason’s age and they went to school together. What fun times to see these two young men grow up as well as the rest of the family. We are sorry for your loss and hope you can find peace in our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ and the teachings of the gospel. Love to everyone Keith & Kathie

We send heartfelt love and condolences to you and your family. Your memories will become cherished treasures and you'll be able to draw on those over time. Grief has many stages and it's okay to feel all of them. Your Mom has been a good friend to me forever. I know she and your family as well as your faith in God will help see you through. Even in our darkest hours we are more loved and held closer. Hugs to you and your precious children.

- Mary & David Brown

Marci, My heart is breaking for you and your young family. Chad is such a wonderful person. I loved working with him. He always looked for the positive in every situation. I will miss Chad so much. He mentioned to me what a wonderful and caring wife you are. Ensuring that everyone in your house stayed safe over this past 18 months. Being a young widow with young children is not easy, but there are so many resources and people around you. Reach out, and don't be afraid to ask for help. The one piece of advice I share is something my uncle shared with me and it helped me so much. People will give you 6 months to grieve, and then they can't fathom why you are still grieving. I just passed my 5 year mark, grief has changed, but always present. Love your children, Chad is an amazing person, and he will watch over them and be there. Chad will be greatly missed. Marcie and kids -- We are heart broken to hear of Chad's passing! My daughter and I worked with Chad both at the U Hospital and Huntsman. What a wonderful man, full of integrity and wisdom! We both loved him and cherished his friendship and kindness. He will be sorely missed! Our thoughts and prayers are with all of you! Just remember that he is always with you!

Dear Freckleton Family, We are so grateful for our long association with the Freckleton family! We know that the miracles of the past years emphasize how very much Chad put into the yeats he had. He is an impressive and loving example of the Gospel and his and the others of your family inspire many of us to do what the Lord sent us to do and accept the challenges as well. We send our love and condolences and our prayers for the peace you need now and for vivid memories of all the good things and example he left to you and all of us. Love and appreciation, Kent and Connie

I can still see 12-year-old Chad on his first day of class at John F. Kennedy junior high as a seventh grader in my classroom. Even then he was well-groomed and attentive with such a happy smile and terrific attitude. I am saddened by his death but pleased to know that his life was one of service and love shared with his family and others. What a joy to know him! May “the peace of God that passes…understanding” be with each of you as you continue your many experiences.

No words will replace the loss of a father or spouse. As life continues you will have hard moments where you will wish he was there. He will always be there in the face of your children, the love of your family, and in your hearts. More importantly at some of those times he will be present, you just won’t see him. Praying for your support from our Savior until you are all together again.

- Mike Cotton

Marcie, what a priviledge we have of meeting your sweet family. I know we have always felt Chad's great faith through the messages he share with us. I remember him being one of the best home teachers we ever had. I remember him always coming to visit us all alone, happy to be there for us, even when he was so sick. His skin used to be turning greener as he was getting sicker but he would still come visit. My John John was so little he thought Chad was Hulk and literally asked him. I have never had a better home teacher. Blessings always to your amazing family. We love you. Marcie, you are a strong beautiful person. I pray you feel our Heavenly Father's love surround you and your little ones. ❤ you. Macrina

Dear Scott and Emajane; We were heartbroken to hear about Chad's passing. We read the obituary just today, too late to attend the viewing or funeral. We can only imagine the hurt that you must be enduring. Please accept our condolences and sympathy. Of course we believe that Chad lives on, and that you will be joined again with him some day. We hope and pray that you will find some measure of comfort and peace. You are in our prayers. Rob and Judy Reese

- Robin Reese

We want to convey our loving sympathy to the Freckleton and Koller families. We were saddened to learn of Chad's passing. Our son's, who knew Chad, expressed their sorrow. Our family has pleasant memories of seeing Chad growing up in the West Point Ward. We know that our Heavenly Father will comfort Marcie and her children Alan and Anela Dearden

- Alan Dearden

Oh my! I am so sorry to hear from Chad's passing. My name is Jean Brown, and I worked at Huntsman Hospital with Don Milligan for 30+ years. I had lunch with him last week, and I found out that Chad had passed. What an intelligent, kind, funny and smart person he was. I'm sorry I missed his passing. I hope you and your family are doing ok. Losing your spouse and dad are life changing. If you need anything, let me know. Love to all, Jean Brown (801)808-5457. I met you at Sue Childress's house awhile ago!

- Jean s. Brown
