

Sinai Kryskatay Alicia Tupou

July 23, 1999 ~ July 20, 2025

Sinai Kryskatay Alicia Tupou, lovingly known as “Baby,” passed away on July 20, 2025, at Alta View Hospital in Sandy, Utah, just days before her 26th birthday. Born on July 23, 1999, in Houston, Texas, Sinai was the cherished firstborn of Simiki and Vika Tupou and the eldest of seven siblings: Mailoni, Leinata Leakehe, Alisi, Amilya, Brigham Blue, and Inoke.

Her name, Kryskatay, is a unique blend of her father Miki and uncle Taylor’s tagging names—a symbol of family creativity and connection that she carried with pride.

As the oldest grandchild on both sides of her family, Sinai held a special place in the hearts of all who knew her. She was everyone’s first child—her presence was radiant, her laughter unforgettable, and her love unwavering. Her nickname “Baby” wasn’t just a name—it was a reflection of how deeply she was adored.

Sinai graduated from West High School in 2017. From a young age, she spent her days alongside her grandmother, also named Sinai, learning the value of compassion and service as a caregiver. That early experience shaped her path, and she continued in that field with pride and dedication, honoring her grandmother’s legacy every step of the way.

A true Leo through and through, Sinai embraced her birthday month with unmatched enthusiasm—starting her countdown on July 1st and making sure everyone knew it was her time to shine. Her favorite color was purple, a perfect match for her bold and beautiful personality. She loved all things girly: hair, makeup, nails, pedicures, and astrology. Her vibrant spirit lit up every room she entered.

Sinai shared a deep bond with all her cousins, but especially with Lupe SharAne—her Lulu. Their connection was one of laughter, loyalty, and love.

She was preceded in death by her Tupou grandparents, Mailoni and Sinai; her aunt Alisi Tupou; her father’s twin sister Valencia Sally; her Grandpa Inoke; and her first cousin Toiata Vaenuku. Their reunion in heaven is surely filled with joy and peace.

Sinai was blessed in September 1999, baptized on August 4, 2007, and graduated from Seminary—all sacred milestones performed or guided by her beloved grandfather.

Her legacy lives on in the hearts of her parents, siblings, cousins, grandparents, and countless others who were touched by her light. Sinai will be remembered for her fierce love, her unapologetic authenticity, and the way she made everyone feel like they were her favorite.
