Jerry had a spiritual side. He loved preaching to others and felt peace outdoors and looking at the clouds. He loved dancing, traveling, and he enjoyed airplanes, Modelo's beer and barbeques. One of his favorite treats was a McDonald's apple pie.

Jerry is survived by his wife Michaela Talmon-Clarin; children Crystal, Christian, Christy and Kristen Flowers; grandchildren Eliza, Zailey, Jayda, Zahra and Kingston; and siblings Lorna Flowers, Egbert Flowers Jr., Dorita Staine and Rose Marie Flowers.
