David Wayne Smart

May 9, 1939 ~ November 25, 2018

I was a graduate student at the University of Northern Colorado (then called Colorado State College) in the early 1970s. Dr. Smart was my professor for a number of counseling classes. He was also a faculty advisor for a new student support service, a telephone crisis counseling center named SLYB (Somebody Loves You, Baby). I was a volunteer for the program and then a trainer of volunteers. Dr. Smart told me about a Fellowship Program with the Suicide Studies Unit of the National Institute of Mental Health in Washington, D.C. I applied for the program (accompanied by a very complimentary and persuasive letter of recommendation from him. I was awarded the Fellowship, it piqued my interest in suicidology, and has remained a passion of mine for my 45 year (so far) career as a psychologist. Thank you, Dr. Smart for your tutelage, caring, and brilliance. Hal Goldberg Denver, Colorado
