

Curtis Trumbull Atkisson Jr.

October 18, 1933 ~ July 19, 2025

Curt and Ann funded my student position at the BYU Museum of Art a decade ago, a position that has impacted my entire career path. Thank you for your generosity.

I am the widow of Dean M. Davies who served as the Puerto Rico San Juan Mission President when Curtis and Mary Ann Atkisson served as a senior missionary couple. They were a delight to serve with in Puerto Rico! Though they were older than Dean and I and had a wealth of experience, they always treated Dean and I with respect and love. They were willing to do whatever was asked of them and served with dedication and love for the people of Puerto Rico and the Lord. Their wealth of experience both in the world and in the Church enabled them to be a treasure as missionaries. We'll be forever grateful for their service and friendship and testimonies in action! P.S. I had the privilege of meeting Curtis' 2nd wife, Ann, several years ago. I'm happy that she and Curtis had some years together after Mary Ann's death and could share wonderful experiences together.

Curtis is part of the reason I know that the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints is led by revelation. In May, 1982, I was called as president of the Dayton Ohio Stake by Elder Thomas J. Fyans, Senior President of the Seventy of the Church. When asked who my counselors should be, I asked for some time to pray about it. Elder Fyans responded that Stake Conference began in the morning, and there was not time to wait. So I told him that I thought Tracy Williams would be a great first counselor, and Curtis Atkisson would be a powerful second counselor. I then saw something pass between the eyes of Elder Fyans and the stake president. It turned out that they were the only two brethren who Elder Fyans had asked to stay behind. They were already there in the building waiting, probably not knowing why. The Spirit knew who I was going to select even before I did. (Journal of Robert R. Dunford, May 12, 1984, pp.2077-80) Curt went on to become an outstanding counselor and his ideas and enthusiasm made wonderful contributions to our stake's progress.
