

Dallin Zackery Walker

June 8, 2003 ~ January 21, 2021

I am currently living out the life Dallin could've had as I was also born in 2003 and am currently studying under the University of Utah's Division of Games. Perhaps I could've met and connected with Dallin if he were here. Its surreal to hear about someone my age dying at such a young age and hope the family has seen better days since. Sincere condolences to the family.

I know it's been a few years but he sounded like an amazing guy. I stumbled across this as I was going through the University of Utah's applications for scholarships. I am planning to go to Utah in the fall and have no intention of studying anything game-related. However, Dallin's accomplishments inspired me to keep going on my academic journey. I, someone who didn't know him, am inspired and so happy with what he was able to accomplish. I am so so sorry for your loss and am sending love to your family.

Its sad to see such a bright kid go. And especially a person my age, I could not imagine the grief and loss the Walker family must have faced. From a young age I loved to code on games like Scratch, and knowing that he could have been a mentor to me in some way if things were different, it breaks my heart. Again, I am deeply sorry for your loss, and his memory will be forever cherished.

Although I didn't know Dallin personally, I felt a connection through our shared love for gaming. I can only imagine how much he brought to that passion and how it influenced everyone around him. Losing someone so young is never easy, and my heart goes out to his family and loved ones.
