

Daniel Warren McAllister

April 9, 1949 ~ November 14, 2020

It is hard to imagine this world without Dan. I am one of the thousands of students whose lives he touched. I'll even miss his corny humor. His devotion to his family came only after his faith in his Lord and Savior. Heaven has gained a great missionary. Earth has lost a great leader and friend. May his family be consoled by knowing that they will be reunited.

- Laureen Leaver

Wendy and family, so sorry for your loss.

- Lynda R Spann

Dr. McAllister was a funny guy who the whole class loved. I had him last semester (Spring 2020). Management wasn't an interesting subject for me but I went to every class because Dr. Dan made it fun. He shared life stories, he made jokes, he interacted with students. He wouldn't recognize me nor my name (as is with 150+ person classes), but I have fond memories of him. Extremely fair and easy going guy as a professor. My favorite/funniest memory of him is when he got a call during class, pulled out his phone, and said out loud: it's not my wife so I'm not going to answer. The whole class laughed then started clapping. Rip to a great guy and I hope you guys are doing okay.

- James meyer

Dear McAllister family, I am so deeply sorry for your loss. I just found out the news and I am very saddened. I was fortunate enough to be in Dr. Dan's Motivation and Leadership class in Spring of 2020. At that time I was going through a difficult time and Dr. Dan lended his ear and allowed me the simple human kindness of listening to me and providing space for me to cry. That sweet gesture of compassion, will live on with me forever, because at a time when I felt alone he showed me there was in fact, a human being who cared. In our last email exchange we was doing another favor for me with a letter of recommendation. We exchanged kind words and I told him while one door didn't open, God had a plan. And that He does. Thank you so much for sharing your father and husband with us. He loved you all so deeply, he mentioned you all in every class; especially Wendy. Wendy, he spoke of you like you put the sun and the stars in the sky. Thank you Dr. Dan for allowing me to feel at home my last semester of college. It was such a privilege knowing you and learning from you. I am praying for you all and sending you love. Warmly, Alexa Martin Del Campo

- Alexa Martin Del Campo

Dr. McAllister was an important influence in my life. I am grateful I was his student. I often share the story of how he took the time to help me discover my life's purpose. His volunteer requirement in our organizational behavioral class lead me to eventually become a foster and then adoptive parent with my husband. Dr. McAllister was on my thesis committee. I know that I am not unique. Dr. McAllister helped many, which I am sure anyone reading this already knows. I wanted to share a few of my experiences and express my condolences. I feel super fortunate to have known Dr. McAllister and to have benefitted from his magnificent teaching and mentoring at UNLV.

- Shellie Keller