I send love and condolences to the family of this amazing and fun man. He was always bigger than life and added so much to the Stallings' family parties. He and your sweet mother made a beautiful and handsome couple. They always radiated love and concern for others. May the sweet memories of the love they had for each of you make this time of parting easier. God bless you all. Stay close to each other, that is what they would want. Loving sympathy, Carole Ward
