I worked with your sweet mother Ena, at JC Penney's many years ago, when Cottonwood Mall first opened. I loved working with her. She is such a lovely fun person. I am sure she is happy to be with family on the other side of the veil. Sending my sympathy to all of her family

Sue, I just read your mom's obituary. It has been about a year since I was able to see her. She wasn't up to visits and then Covid hit. I am happy you had asked me to visit her, probably over 2 years ago. We had some nice visits and I was able to see some of her lovely art and quilting. I enjoyed reading more here about her most interesting life. Thank you for the privilege of knowing her. I hope you feel peace in knowing that you cared for her, even if it had to be mostly from a distance. Love, KathieGygi

Sue: We loved the absolutely wonderful mini-biography about your mom! Now we know where you got your love for travel, adventure and table games! We rejoice with you in the reality of the unwavering love of our Savior and Father in Heaven, and their promise of life eternal. Blessings of peace and comfort to you and your extended family.
