

Edith Lyman Isaacson

December 31, 1924 ~ January 13, 2024

I'm sorry for your loss of a wonderful lady my prayers and thoughts ■ are with you all ❤■ I Love you .

- Wendy caldwell

Edith is an eternal friend to me. I have known her for a very long time. She has taught me to be a hard worker, to make beautiful quilts, to canning tomatoes, peaches, and grape juice. She showed me how to put furniture together. How to cook Armenian food and the love she had for her family and friends. Edith was always happy and she often made me laugh at simple things. I loved talking with her about my dreams and my two children. She was a good listener and she cared about me. I Will deeply miss her. She will always be with me in my mind and heart. I deeply love you Edith.

- Anne Greene