

Elden Virl Taylor

May 14, 1925 ~ October 5, 2024

Uncle Eldon and aunt Betty were the best to me in my life as a young child and even as I got older, they both were very dear to me like second parents, and I love them with all my heart. I’m so thankful that they’re together now. I have so many memories of being with your family growing up, running down the street and crossing that very busy road that my dad used to tell me . And go play with my cousins. It was the highlight of my day since I didn’t have anyone my age to hang out with. Even though the distance has separated us apart over the years, all of you are still very dear to me and I love you all very much. I know it’s difficult when your parents go to the other side of the veal. But I do know they’re with us each and every day watching over us. My thought will be with you in the coming days as you honor such a wonderful man. Love you all Cindy.

- Cindy Taylor Banner