

Ethel Mae Newman Gottfredson

September 29, 1934 ~ May 1, 2024

Thank you for sharing her life story. What a life this kind lady led. I met Mrs. Gottfredson (Mrs. G in my mind ■) when the family moved to Montezuma Creek. I had the pleasure of getting to know the Gottfredson family and grew to love them. My favorite memories of Mrs. G were of her perfect pitch whistling while she made dinner, her reminders to us when we played too rambunctiously in the living room that the house was NOT a gymnasium, and the smile on her face when silly antics took over (like Kaye and Steve loudly singing along to the Grease soundtrack). Family was important to Mrs. G. and she was a good example to me of how to serve your loved ones. I feel blessed to have known her and to visit with her in Pocatello a few months ago. During this visit she shared her photo album with me that kept photos of her world travels and we were able to hug one last time ■. I send my love and condolences to her family.
