Georgia was a beautiful woman both inside and out. She demonstrated such charm, grace and beauty in every aspect of her life. She always had a smile and a hug for everyone she came in contact with and I feel blessed for knowing her. She was truly an angel here on earth and is an angel in heaven. Our sympathies, love and prayers go to her dear family and her loving husband Art.

Art, we are so sorry to hear of Georgia’s passing. She was a generous soul, always cheering for others and so happy for the success of others. She was beautiful inside and out. I teased her that she was my spirit animal, but it’s true. I admired her so much. The world has lost an amazing spirit.

I won the lottery when it comes to stepmoms. Not only did she bring light into my dad's eyes after my mom died, but she was so careful not to tread on mine and my sisters' memories of our mom. She cried happy tears when I asked if my kids could call her Grandma Georgia. She mothered me through my bad marriage, my divorce, my post-divorce romances, turning 40, and most of all, she celebrated with me when I settled into my relationship and now marriage with Kelso. I just don't know anyone more selfless, confident, healthy, grateful, and kind as Georgia. And we lost her on Tuesday. Life has come crashing to a halt again and I am again going through the motions of grief and funeral and tears and pain. I am so sad and I am just one of so so many who are devastated. She made everyone feel like they were important because she truly believed they were. People who only met her once remembered her name. And she just walked through life like all that was completely normal. Like she wasn't unique or a gift to anyone who interacted with her. She treated others like THEY were the gift. I never wished for a stepmom but I couldn't have invented a better one.

Georgia is the greatest example of pure love....I feel so very honored to have met her in 2017 (attending 'Loving What Is' classes) and cherished every opportunity I got to spend in her peaceful presence, learning from her...she was one of my greatest teachers!

I am so thankful for Georgia and her long time friendship with my Mom, Janis Frederickson. They were a model of true friendship that stood the tests of time. They weekly lunches were so important to both of them and Georgia was so supportive to us when our Mom passed in Dec 2023. Thoughts go to her family as they walk out this part of the journey.

A moment to praise Art, who was her prince charming and gave her many years of supream happiness and opened up a world of music and art. Time marches on ,but memories are forever. Georgia's passion for beauty left a lasting impact on my life. Years ago, she threw a "color party" for several of her step-grandchildren. I've always felt timid and awkward in my fashion sense, but Georgia helped me feel more comfortable and confident in what I wear. That may seem a small gift. But the daily assurance I continue to enjoy from her kindness represents a significant positive impact on my life that will continue to accrue long after today. Thank you, Georgia.
