

Gloria Jean Butcher

April 7, 1957 ~ Sept. 11, 2023

Gloria was simply the best. She was honest, straight forward, brave and selfless. My husband and I always marveled at her work ethic and grit. She never whined about the trials she had to endure, never showed anything but resolve and courage. She fought cancer for so long, it's hard to believe anything could have taken her from this world. The one comfort, if there is one, is that she can finally rest and be at peace from the ravages of that horrible disease. She was a wonderful person, a top notch neighbor, and a friend who was there, without fail, when I needed her.

- Ellen Haslam

The Loss of a special loved one like your Mom is the most difficult thing in the world. She is an amazing lady! She will never be forgotten. Her legacy and memories will always live on with her family and friends. Remember her each day for her dedication and unconditional love she gave to everyone. My thoughts and prayers are with you at this time. May the Lord bless your family with strength and love.

- Burke Wells

I remember the year Gloria and my mom smartened up. Sarah and I were comparing our anticipated Christmas gifts(we had both snooped). The joke was on us, Sarah got my Christmas, and I got hers. Gloria and my mom had hid that years gifts for each other. Gloria had sewn a bald blue eyed cabbage patch for me that year. I always remember her sewing. Beautiful wedding dresses, dolls, all sorts of things.

- Melane Hall