Aunt Marge I am so very sorry for your loss. Uncle Gordon was an amazing, kind and loving man, who we will never forget. The stories you shared with me of your lives together when you were first married, still put a smile on my face. I will keep you and your family in my thoughts and prayers.

Grandpa, you were one of the kindest men I've ever known. I didn't realize how selfless you were until recent years. When my parents were tied up with work and unable to be at home to spend time with Julia and I. You and Grandma decided to take a step back from the fun carefree years of retirement, and jump into another round of parenthood. Why? Certainly not because it was fun, but because you two are amazing, selfless people and wanted to be there for your family even when it wasn't convenient. I regret not spending more time with you in your last years. SImply put, I wasn't as selfless as you were. You were there for me as a child, and I certainly told myself that I was there for you when I was an adult... But I didn't show up as much as I should have. I am grateful that I got to spend the last two days of your life with you. I am grateful that I got to take you to Wendover multiple times over the last few years. I am grateful for all the baseball games you took me to. I am grateful for the hundreds of single dollar bills you gave me as a kid to "run over to Harmons, and buy a snack". I am grateful for the hunting trips, the Jackson Hole trips, the cruises, the smiles, and the memories. If I am half as good to my future grandkids as you and Grandma were to me, I'd be surpassing all reasonable expectations. I know that you still have my back, and that you are still there for me, it's just in a different way now. I am grateful for the Atonement, and that because of our Savior I will see you again. I hope it's a few years from now... But I look forward to greeting you up there with a big hug!

I am so very sorry for the loss of your loved one. Living away from Utah for so much of my life I was not able to get to know my Uncle Gordon well. I do remember he was very handsome to me when I was young.. His wonderful smile and kind demeanor I also remember. I know he is at peace with his heavenly father. May the family be comforted in that assurance.

Marge, we are so very sorry we were not able to send our love and condolences at the time of Gordon's passing. We love you both so much and have cherished our friendship throughout the years. We were truly blessed to live next door to you and watch as you welcomed each of your children into your lives. We have fond memories of our dinners together. I can't say enough good about both of you. But I will never forget you telling us about your snakey friends that came up out of the windows and dash board of your car while you were driving following a fishing trip by Gord. He was such a good man and you were a wonderful loving wife. Thank you for setting a good example for us .
