

Gull-Britt Elenor Richardson

May 21, 1938 ~ June 2, 2022

---

I am sorry for the loss of your wife, mother, and grandmother. Gull-Britt was an amazing person. I met her as a nurse taking care of her in her home following a short stay at a hospital then a skilled nursing facility. While taking care of her I was able to connect with her Swedish heritage. My father had taught me Swedish folk songs he learned from his mission in Sweden. We were able to sing together all while learning to regain her health and independence. I will never forget the love and smile she shared. Thank you Gull-Britt for the amazing memories and life lessons. God be with you until we meet again.

- Ryan Lewis

---

I am so sorry for your loss. Gull-Britt was a lovely lady. She was always kind and soft spoken. We will all miss her and how kind she always treated everyone. She is always be in my heart.

- Corrina Moore

---

My kind regards and respect for your family in your loss. She was a wonderful joyful woman. Her faith in the Gospel of Jesus Christ added to my own testimony.

- Betty Stoked

---

GULL-BRITT was one of the kindest humans to touch my life. She was a blessing in my life when I needed it most. I will be forever grateful for the love she showed me. I will miss her! She was an incredible wife and mother to the most smart, creative, amazing, strong, loving humans any one could know. Her legacy of life lives in you all. She will be missed. The Lord bless you and keep you in perfect peace.

- Ava cabey

---

There are very few people in life that have had to fight so hard to live, than Gull-Britt Richardson. Nine lives is an understatement! Her children may have been diverse in their personalities, but united in their love for her and each other. They took such great care of their mother that despite her several near death experiences, she was nursed back to health. I love the Richardson Family! The older I get, the more I realize that connections with others are not just the candy of life, meant to enjoy, but vital in our journey to become our best selves. The Richardson Family have taught me that loving each other regardless of our differences is what Christ would have us do. Though my actions may have not reflected this when I was young, it was these vital connections with families like the Richardson's that have helped me change my perspective and be more understanding. There is a plan and purpose for every life lived, and I'm so grateful for the Richardson family. They were part of my village growing up, and their lives continue to shape my life's journey even today. Thank you!!!! Sincerely, with love, Diana Catenzaro Barker

- Diana Barker

---

Gull-Britt and I have a long and wonderful history. I first meet her in Goteborg in 1962 while on a mission for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latterday saints. She was young and vibrant and loved life. She was a great help to the missionaries in finding those searching for truth. Her sense of humor and ability to have fun was always present, she was always very giving and very spiritual. The second time I met Gal-Britt was in 1967 at a church dance at the Rainbow Randavoux in downtown Salt Lake City. She was with a group of friends having a great time dancing. There was a young girl named Inger Andersson that was her room-mate and was from Sweden. Gull-Britt introduced her to me and I asked for a dance. Inger's dance card was full so Gull-Britt said she would set me up on a blind date. That blind date turned into a marriage in the Salt Lake Temple that same year. Gul-Britt was Inger's maid of honor and she used her sewing skill to make all of the bridesmaids dresses, including Inger's wedding dress. She was a very talented seamstress. She was a special friend to Inger and myself all these years. She is enjoying time with her friend Inger as they are both with our heavenly father. With love Steve Love Steve

- Stephen A Thomas

---

This woman was like a second mother to us kids on Northstar Drive. She always seemed to have Swedish meatballs around to share with us and feed us, kids, when we were hungry. Actually, I guess or felt like our street was the BEST street to grow up on. Her hubby Paul was hands down the quickest whit on the planet and ALWAYS had something funny, snarky, or sarcastic to say, and he was equally loved for it. Together they had the largest family on the street, and every kid on the block was friends with them all. I was older than most of them but I absolutely loved Mark (now Samantha), who clearly inherited his sense of humor and love of everyone around him, now her. I secretly admired Britt Richardson Powell as well, she was as cute as could be. I hope and pray for peace for all of the family she leaves behind, and I eagerly look forward to the wonders that this family has been in my life. I can't count the times, Gull-Britt Richardson, patched up a skinned knee or a ripped up elbow. She truly was a blessing in my early life and I for one, am going to miss her. Steven Kendall, Michelle Kendall McGuire, and every other kid on the street would concur with me!!!!

- Dave Kendall

---

Sister Richardson I thought of you this past few weeks... I went to church and I didn't see you there, it was sad to find out that you passed away. This past two years of pandemic in lock down made me miss many familiar faces including yours. Thank you for all you did to make me feel welcome at church. Love always ■.. Patricia Ferwerda.

- Patricia Ferwerda