

Homer El Ray Whitlock

February 7, 1940 ~ January 4, 2026

Homer was one of a kind! I met him when I was 14, around 1965 and was impressed with his ridiculous jokes, and I really loved it when he came to Paulsen Brother's jobs to work or visit. I remember seeing him with Adele and how they were two love birds. I moved away and about 60 years later at a family reunion, got to see him again and really enjoyed his life stories. He added life long memories for me and many others, I am sure. Rest in peace Homer!
