

James Terry Kidd

January 21, 1943 ~ September 1, 2022

So sorry to hear of Terry's passing. He is a choice, genuine, one of a kind great man. Prayers to you and your family.

Uncle Terry was always such a kind soul and reminded me so much of Grandpa Fern. I will always be grateful that I got to see him at Hawley Creek last summer. He will be so missed - the world needs more humans like him. All my love to the family.

Terry was my first brother, 15 months younger than me. We grew up together and had many adventures together. He was everything little brothers are-a great playmate, sometimes a nuisance I could barely tolerate and a wonderful adult friend I admired and loved so very much. He was a wonderful, gentle man and will be missed by all of us. This tribute is lovely and so accurate.

I and mine and Bill’ family send our deepest regrets. Bill, too, suffered from dimentia. Beautiful souls so early taken.!

Oh Tiffani, my heart had been with you this month. I have wanted to embrace you in a hug and tell you what a sweet friend told me just a few months ago. "It's never easy losing your dad no matter how old he is. Cooking to the memories and you will get through." I love you! Love all of you. My sincerest condolences. ~ Heather Austad Cannon

Later in life, I did not have the fortune of seeing Uncle Terry much. Life is funny that way sometimes, letting opportunities go by thinking, next year perhaps. And then a person is suddenly gone and you regret that you weren’t better at staying connected to family. Most of my memories of Uncle Terry are from my younger years, but I have great memories from past reunions as an adult that I look back on happily as well. I lived with Terry, Gloria and family for short bit in my teenage years. I remember always feeling like love was in their home, and appreciate that they were patient and kind to me. Uncle Terry always made me feel welcome around him and his family. It’s hard to find words to describe the appreciation you have for who someone was, and how they made you feel…..so I’ll just say that I will miss Terry….and I have very fond (and only good) memories of him. To Gloria, the kids and their kids, etc….my sincere condolences. Love you all
