I remember her from high school. She was always kind and loving. Sorry for your loss. She seemed like she had a beautiful life.

Such an amazing lady gone way to soon. She grew up in my ward and attended school together through all our hard and fun times as a teenager and young woman. I am so grateful I got to see her at our last class reunion and get a huge hug. What a big heart she had. So friendly and kind to everyone! She was so proud to have her daughter be the photographer at the event and made sure we all knew what an incredible lady she was. She will be so missed by everyone that knew and loved her. Until we meet again ♥■

Jenn was a light that was always shining while serving and loving others. She will be sorely missed. Her creativity and care that she put into callings and holidays won my heart. She wanted to know how you really were doing. She cared deeply and put her self out there. I'm grateful to call her friend.

Only today did I learn of Jennifer's passing. I find myself in shock and also in awe of the wonderful life my friend lived and the deep legacy her loved ones share. I haven't seen any other remembrances from Jennifer's friends in The Utah Wing of the Civil Air Patrol, the civilian liaison of the United States Air Force. During the mid 1970's and the next ten years, Jennifer and I were cadets in the Mount Olympus Cadet Squadron. We attended weekly meetings where we studied military organization, history and leadership skills. Jennifer and I moved up the ranks together, from prospective members, to C.A.P cadets, to gaining our first strips and proceeding through the sergeant ranks until at last we became officers. Jennifer and I had many friends and experienced incredible things for kids our age that sadly aren't possible for teens now because of how much the world has changed. Did you know Jennifer regularly received flying lessons in small aircraft? As a member of Civil Air Patrol she not only worked toward her pilot's license, she learned about search and rescue operations for missing civilian aircraft in Utah and the surrounding Intermountain Region. Jennifer and I sort of specialized in Communications and regularly spoke as representatives to the press during searches and community events. We lead flag ceremonies out at the old raceway and at football games around Salt Lake City and the state. We spent 10 days every year at the State Fair recruiting for new members. Cadets were age 13 through 21, and we were proud to wear our Air Force uniforms in public. We looked like adults and conducted ourselves as such, despite her being 15 at the time. We attended summer encampments and grueling drill team practices from Camp Williams to Fort Williams to Hill Air Force Base. Jennifer regularly trained in Colorado Springs at the US Air Force Academy, and rode in Jump seats in the back of KC 135's to attend Nation Drill Team competitions every December. Jennifer leant her lovely singing voice to funeral services for departed members of Civil Air Patrol. She was popular, beautiful, funny and wicked smart. I loved her and I wanted to tell you about how I knew her. Rest in power dear Jenny.
