I’m very sorry for the loss of Jenny. She was such a thoughtful, kind person. I have fond memories of discussing and watching movies with her. I’m very thankful that the last time I saw Jenny it was a pleasant visit with her. XOXO

Jenny was a gentle soul who worked every day to become a stronger woman. Though her battle was too difficult, the parts of her that shone through were her love for her parents, sisters, nieces and and cousins. Though I am no longer part of the 'legal' family - she was and is my niece, Jenny.

- Susan Anderson

My deepest condolences. I will always cherish the precious moments we got to spend with Jenny and the way she played with my kids and made them so happy. Charlie is mentioning her 10 times a day. Harper is still not processing it yet but I could feel it that she is hurting deeply. We will miss you Jenny.

I have so many wonderful memories of Jenny through all our years of friendship. There is so much of the bittersweet in reflecting on all the experiences we had together because there are so many happy memories, but Jenny is gone now. Jenny was well-loved by my family, and we've reminisced about our memories of Jenny together. Camping trips, vacations, New Year's Eve parties, marathons to watch 24 or scary movies or LOTR. I remember laughing so much with Jenny. She was always a favorite at my house. I'm sorry she was hurting and felt lost. I hope she is at peace now and is able to understand the positive impact she made on others. I'm grateful for the time we had together, and I am better for it.

I was so lucky to have Jenny in my life. She was my aunt, but she was also a role model and a dear friend. There was so much that I admired about her, from her perfect handwriting and sharp wit to her sweet spirit and loving heart. She was fiercely opinionated and always had a good take. You couldn't beat her at Scattergories. Growing up, I loved sleeping over at my grandparents' house because it meant I got to hang out with Jenny. Time with her was always special, whether we were just playing computer games at home, going out to eat, or off to see Harry Potter at midnight. The loss of her brilliance is devastating, but I know she is at peace now. I love you, Jenny.

Growing up, I always admired Jenny for her fierce intelligence, warm smile, and excellent taste in music. I will always remember the day Jenny drove Jamie and me to our first day of college, showed us where to get our IDs, and answered all our questions about college life. I even remember when she and her friend would come into the restaurant I worked at as a teenager on Friday nights. I thought it was so cool and sophisticated that they had a weekly dinner-and-movie outing. And they always went to see the best movies. I was grateful for the opportunities I had to see Jenny recently and talk with her again at birthday parties and special events. She was a gentle soul and was loved deeply by all who knew her. You are missed, Jenny. My deepest condolences to the Usry family during this impossible time.

We can't imagine the heartache you must feel. Our hearts go out to you. Words seem inadequate. If there's anything we can do please let us know.

Jenny was incredibly special to our family and she left a mark on my life that will never be forgotten. There are so many things in this life that will continue to make me smile, and always remember Jenny: Binging the TV series 24, Lord of the Rings marathons, Papa Murphy's pizza, a good pint of Ben & Jerry's ice cream, game nights, Halloween dinners, Hawaii, and that darn garden gnome! You loved your Dad, Mom, and little sister Jamie - through stories that you shared as you spent time with our family. You were a beautiful soul - you will always be remembered and loved!

Jenny was my aunt and also my dear friend. I loved going over to see her at my grandparents house. She would stay up late with me, make me mixed CDs, and take me out for dinner. She knew that I loved David Archuleta and she took me to see him perform at the Real soccer game. I loved being able to spend 1 on 1 time with her. She always made me laugh and made me feel special. I miss her very much but I believe she is no longer in pain and at peace. I hope she knows how much I love her.

I have worked with Jennifer's family as a Veterinary Technician at the Veterinary Hospital where they bring their dogs. I had the pleasure of seeing Jennifer every month. She always was such a warm and caring person and you could really see and feel how much she loved her family, even the furry ones. I know she will be missed immensely and was so incredibly loved. She touched all of our hearts. My heart goes out to her family.

Jennifer was bright, witty, funny, beautiful, creative, intelligent, with a powerful mind. She was a dear friend and it was a gift to know her. My solice and prayer for her is that she can now clearly see, what those who loved and knew her saw, a beautiful soul, that is now free to shine. Thank you Jenny. I will carry you in my heart.
