

Jesse John Morgan

September 29, 1996 ~ January 8, 2026

I am very sorry for your loss. Jessie was amazing. He always felt like a safe person to be around. His cool quiet demeanor helped tone town some of our more chaotic friends when they got to be a little too much. I remember always running down to his and Max's apartment off fourth to hang out and play board games practically every day after class. He was one of the friends that helped me come out of my shell, embrace nerdy hobbies, and remind me that happiness and community are a necessity in life. He will be missed by myself and so many others. My heart goes out to your family.

- Debbie Landis

Joanne and Kirk. I am saddened to hear of the passing of Jesse. I know that he lives after death and that Christ has over come the world and death.

- Fred Campbell

What a sad day when I received the news of my dearest devoted friend Jesse!!!!!!! I don’t know how I will be able to have any sense of happiness now Jesse has departed this god forsaken evil world he brought so so so so so much much beauty and refreshing bright shining light into!!!!!!!!! Jess as I always called him had a kindred spirit of love and beauty beyond what any words could ever accurately convey. Our devoted friendship was a beautiful sight to see and experience!!!!! Our long talks over an ice cold Pepsi and our devotion to one another is beyond any words that could even come to conveying our deep caring friendship!!!!!! Our travels in nature created a bond that many only hope to have. Thank god for our binding kind united friendship. Jess may god’s grace be with you and your dearest loved ones as we all grieve your loss together as we fervently look to that awsome day we are united In your loving embrace!!!!!!!!!!!!!! RIP Jess■■■ another’s friendship. Our hours and days spent together in the most beautiful mountains of gods creations leaves me with memories

- Zack Martin

Heartbroken to hear of Jesse’s passing this morning. He was such a kind and witty spirit. Kitty was a fantastic friend of mine during high school, and I knew Jesse through her. When I couldn’t house my cat for a few months as a young adult, Jesse stepped in and took her on out of the goodness of his heart. That act of kindness allowed me to keep my lifelong companion and every day when I look at her in my home, I think of him. Sending so much love to your family. xoxo

- Jay Manning

From all the Hartleys, we send our sincerest condolences to the family. I remember the first time we actually met was at a math camp in the summer. Jesse has always been an amazing friend and formidable opponent in all the games we played together. From introducing me to MTG in high school, to making games in collage. A brilliant mind and a delight to study with in collage. His creativity and determination will always inspire me to try and be my best self. He was a true friend in this life and in the next life. To the next adventure battle brother.

- Max Hartley

Dear sweet man.

- Elene Dangerfield

So sorry that Jesse’ s big smile has left this world! We have nothing but wonderful memories of Jesse. Our thoughts are with all of his family!

- Ginny and Tony

I write heartbroken after just now learning of Jesse's passing. How I wish I were there to hold each of you in my arms. I remember Jesse as a very young boy visiting his grandparents, then as a wonderfully mature young man providing solace to his family in New Jersey. Being with the youngest son of my oldest friend was a gift to me, and to so many others. As this obituary reminds us: Jesse "would make a point to include those who were excluded, and his compassion for the misunderstood and less fortunate shone through in every action he took." May his memory be for a blessing; and may we follow the good in his example.

- Barbara Cronenberger

Only just seen this. It's many years since I was in Park City, but my sincere condolences to the family, especially to Kitty.

- Stuart Brown