

Jessika (Sika) Kayleeya Knottingham

April 24, 2009 ~ March 2, 2025

---

Very sad. I'm sorry for your loss. My condolences and prayers for y'all. May she Rest in peace

- Saunsiaray Broussard (Sunny)

---

I love u so much jessiba ■■

- Leyha

---

I was only able to know Jessika for a few months, but those few months were almost pure joy. I met her when my boyfriend was also in the hospital. One day while we were on the phone, he had told me he had gotten a letter from someone next door and we read it together. The smile that had come across his face was one of the most genuine I had seen for a long while. It was absolutely wonderful seeing him happy again, so I was determined to meet Jessika. I wanted to thank the person who had brought back his light, even if it was just a little. Getting to meet and know Jessika was one of the greatest privileges I've had. She was such a kind soul, the kind that you only find once in a lifetime. I still wear the bracelet she made for me, every single day. She had such a huge impact on my life and I'm forever grateful for being able to know her. We miss you so much Jessika. Fly high ♥■

- Jaxon Edwards

---

One of the most beautiful, kind hearted, creative, and COOL people I've ever met. Wherever she is now, they should be honored to have her. Love you goob.

- Betty Taylor

---

Jessika was a joy and gave so much to the world and the people around her. She was never afraid to be totally herself, and supported others to do the same. Jess helped me figure out who I am, and was a warming face everyday when I waked into the classroom. I will miss her with all of my heart for she gave me a world of love and kindness. You were loved in your presence, and you are loved and missed dearly in your absence. Rest in peace Jess. I loved knowing you.

- Livia Gerber