The little town of Moab will not be the same. He was so proud of his boys and his little Tomi. Not long ago I saw Jon in the store. He was quick to pull up pictures on his phone, to show off his grand daughter. My heart goes out to the boys, Brynli and Tomi. To Aubry and extended family as well. We love you and that love will forever be etched on our hearts

What a friend we've had in Jon ! He toiled right along with Don to get our home started, and we always enjoyed his presence, which always added the element of humor. He was always tactful and so interesting with sharing his knowledge of current events. He had a thirst for knowledge and sharing it. I marveled at the antiques he would refinish and refurbish to later sell. Jon was so gifted in his trade of tile setting, and so exacting, too. He was so kind and caring to our two children, and they always thought of him as an uncle type figure in their lives. We respected Jon, and he respected us. We couldn't ask for a better friend, and he seemed like family to us. We will miss Jon greatly and cherish our memories of him always.

For me, South High, without Jonathan, would have been completely different. Jonathan was a trend setter of sorts. He influenced me to wear Levi Jeans cut up the sides about an inch and a half, then hemmed so the cut didn't fray. This allowed the bottom of the Jean to sit nicely on top of highly spit shined Penfield, Florsheim shoes. Jonathan was fun to be with. It seemed that every friend supported me in his or her unique way. Jonathan was one of a kind. God bless his wife, kids, and extended family to feel the comfort of the Savior during this time.

My former husband, Michael Goeckeritz, told many stories about his friendship with Jon growing up in his teenage years. He would tell the children about ditching his high school graduation party to go hang out with Jon. Jon seemed like a kind-hearted, fun person to be around. I am sure Jon and Mike are having a good time now catching up and discussing their life experiences. Condolences to the family. You are in our prayers.
